DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 06 September 2005 has been entered.

Summary of changes in this action

1. The indefiniteness rejection has been overcome responsive to the amendment.

Drawings

Figure 1 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. Reference is made to lines 3-4 of page 8. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

- (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains.

Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-4, 6-8, 11-13, 15-21 and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kadanka et al. (USPN 5,621,308) in view of newly cited art to Mietus (USPN 5,666,046). Kadanka et al. disclose, in Fig. 2, a circuit comprising: “a band-gap reference unit (70 and 73, less 54 and 57)”; “a buffer circuit (57)”; and “a single component voltage pull-up device (54)”, wherein the “voltage pull-up device” has a “transistors (54)”. Kadanka et al. does not expressly disclose that transistor 54 has a “less than $1.0 V_{BE}$ ”. However, it is notoriously well known, as expressly taught by Mietus (e.g., see Col. 1, lines 56-67), to use a voltage of 0.7 volts for the expect advantage of using a lower supply voltage (e.g., 0.8 volts). Therefore, it would have been obvious for one skilled in the art to manufacture transistor 48 with “less than $1.0 V_{BE}$ ” for the expected advantage allowing for a lower supply voltage.

Examiner has fully considered Applicant’s remarks for the above rejection and has not found them to be persuasive. Applicant’s remarks of the middle paragraph of page 7 are not understood. In this section, Applicant’s discusses the requirement of a rejection under 35 U.S.C. § 102, nor a rejection under 35 U.S.C. § 103. Further, contrary to Applicant’s remarks, only element 54, of Kadanka et al., is now being read as the “voltage pull-up device”. Clearly element 48 is a “single component voltage pull-up device”. And lastly, transistor 57 is connected as a emitter-follower. As is notoriously well known by one skilled in the art, an emitter-follower inherently and necessarily operates as a buffer, similarly as Applicant’s transistor 205.
